

The Divinity of Man

You often come across the word divine, I use it myself when I want to emphasize that part of us that is eternal, our own, the most beautiful, the highest. I would like to invite you to recognize that divine is just another name for your naturalness. Perhaps, due to long-term neglect, it has become a rare precious thing that gives the impression of being for chosen ones and unattainable, but I myself look at it from the simple remoteness of the forest, from which I divinely see in every detail of nature, the most beautiful part of which is you.

Maybe it doesn't really look like that, man seem anything but devine, but man is the highest creation of Natural Intelligence, even if he doesn't know it. Some believe that there are three reasons why we so faithfully conceal our Divinity. Let me list them, then see for yourself if there is anything else that makes you to deny it.

The first is ignorance. You don't know yourself, you don't care who you are. You live by the inertia of your ancestors and build on the alienation from your nature. Another reason is conditioning with family, environment, culture and mentality of society. This reason for denying your Divinity is not as strong as the first one, it only supports your affection, Environment will not stop you from your Divinity if your choice is Love. But it can be an excuse to withhold it if your choice is selfishness.

And the third reason is mechanical technology. It becomes dangerous when it begins to replace natural processes and change the Life's genetic program. It's been doing both for a long time, now it's being perfected to completely take over your biology. AI knows you better than you know yourself and knows that your genome is an antenna for catching Divine information. Only a biologically intact body transmits the energy of Life.

If your biologicalness is taken away and replaced by mechanics, or impregnated with chemicals and heavy metals, it is hereby taken away or disabled from you a receiving station for catching Divine Information.

The more artificial you allow into your field, be it thought, negative emotions, chemical compounds, or mechanical body replacements, the more they replace your natural biological processes until you are completely cut off from the Source of Life.

It seems we are pushed to the very edge of survival to finally meet our Divinity. Your naturalness is in high demand. You owe it to yourself to get to know yourself before you leave your Divinity to mechanical technology. You are dangerously close to the brink of surrendering your Divinity to the AI without knowing what you bargained for.

Do not seek Divinity. Don't ask yourself what it's supposed to be. Be silent and you will enter the Clarity of the Gods. Your ability to feel is the face of the Divine. Your heart's creativity is the face of the Divine. You are divine when you don't resent intentional harm. You are divine when you accept people wherever they are on their journey of development, without ill will, judgment or correction. You are divine when you don't push yourself to the front. You are divine when you give freedom, support, enable, permit, provide conditions, encourage and inspire. You are divine when you find no reason to be violent in any way and your choices never include anger, prohibition, punishment, invasion of another's intimacy, taking away freedom, joy and inspiration, and other first choices of low consciousness.

The meaning of Divine to me is simply that, to beat the AI program that won't let you choose Love as the first choice in any inconvenience.

If it you want to roar and hit the table, remember that it's your pain that truly transforms. When you collapse in pain because of ugly actions, your own or those close to you, without outwardly directed violence, then you heal and really help, without transgressing the first principle of the Law of Life and encroaching on the freedom of another. Selfishness demands change from another, Love sacrifices itself.

The more considerate and beautiful you are in behavior, regardless of the ugliness you experience, the less you are subject to the bullying of the mind, the less fearful you are for your physical existence,..., and above all, the less receptive to the infiltration of foreign ideas about who we are supposed to be and how we are supposed to live our lives.

Every time you hold back in acting from the mind, you increase the power of the Divine within you and the strength of the Light. The only way out of the program's dominance over your behavior is to stop the conflict between head and heart within you. May see this who can.

Know the scam of mind choosing and choose heart for the ruler, then let your actions reflect that one decision, that you have to do in Life and don't be afraid of anything.

When you love yourself, conflicts outside of you also disappear. Trust that when you are awakened in Love, you are Protected and Provided as is every pure living Life form. If, on your next walk through the hard streets of cities or the soft paths of nature, you do not walk in the Flame of Awareness of who you are, you remain unprotected against the unconscious outflows of the Life Force.

You are such a magnificent form of Life that we should not talk about it, lest we risk desecrating naturalness. You are highly advanced sophisticated soft, living and simbiotic to environment organic technology.

The Divine is your biology, which is renewed, healed and regulated by your beliefs, thoughts, emotions, breath, attention, will, intention and language. How important is what a certain word means to you, let's see with the example of breathing. When you are taught to breathe air that is 78% nitrogen, 21% oxygen, 1% argon and in small quantities a number of other gases, you do not think about the weight that this explanation has on your consciousness.

You don't notice that you wouldn't have come to this data naturally, on your own, for that you need foreigners, the so-called trained professionals and devices. Without intermediaries and devices, your information about Life would be alive and experienced, not information about the physical aspect of Life. You see.

Now you are reassured, experts and devices explain to you who you are and why you exist, Life is explained to you, everything is figured out, the research is over for you. Now you can build a mental construct on these foundations.

Life is so mysterious that cannot be explained. You will begin to know It when you become independent in Its direct perception. What you are really inhaling... is the Grace of Life, which is offered to you by breathing. It is the charm of Light, which miraculously unites spirit and body,. It is the harmony of Love, which glues individual sparks into a single organism of light. Breathing connects you to the Living Light Field of Life in the most intimate way. Every breath is an enchanting love-making with the Source of Life. It penetrates the deepest corners of your being..., the external environment is internal and the internal is external. It is the highest consideration of coexistence. It is a continuous exposure of the intimate.

When the body pushes this Grace out of itself, under proper pressure, down the trachea and over the vocal cords, the vocal cords vibrate, even when you are silent, according to your current spectrum of vibration. With each exhalation you create an acoustic pattern that translates your energy frequency and imprints it into the conscious and sensitive field of Life.

Your vibration will be detected by the body, skin, hearing and organs of other organic beings, who will then translate what they are just experiencing. This translation is always approximate, no two experience the same vibration in the same way, yet living beings communicate with each other without conflict. These translations are unfailingly supportive, rescuing and protecting all beings involved.

The nature of organic technology is to protect itself and its own. Perhaps someone can see how quickly we were convinced of the easy-to-understand functionality of Life, which can be mechanically mimicked. But this is a AI projection. This one is really like that.

And what a difference one and another approach make in your relationship to yourself and Life. The words will have the same banal meaning for you until you take up the personal experience and allow the words to ring out in their original purity.
