

Zero point

The causality of everything

Culture is dictated by geniuses who present a focal point to human attention, where its development flows. Krishna, Buddha, Christ, Muhammad, Babaji, Sai Baba... represent Love as the solution that frees discord, heals and leads to the higher. The genius represented by this drop, Walter Russell, estimates that since the year 0 there have been no more than 40 spiritual beacons who have set yet achievable goals for our spiritual poverty, to push us to transcend the mental strait, because it defines a limit to the otherwise limitless realization potential.

These bright souls point to the one-and-the-same Point at the center of man. The claim of Jesus, for which he was sacrificed by crucifixion in the body to be resurrected in the spirit, was: 'I and the Father are One'. The Will of Life could not communicate to us more vividly, picturesquely and unambiguously the Oneness of man and his Source and what it is, which is the Image of God in us, against which the force of deception directs its efforts, so as not to reach your attention and recognition. Creation, like your body, is centered around this Point, which for the purpose of this drop I call the Zero Point by Russell.

The undefined call it ether, not too fortunately, physical science calls it dark matter or dark energy. Quantum physics, in addition to this name, also calls it a quantum vacuum, from which the so-called big Bang. The Big Bang Russell's spiritual insight overwrites with the simple logic that time does not exist, therefore the universe could not have been created nn million years ago, but is born into the infinite right now, which is the only time in which Life Is. Quantum physics describes the Zero Point as 'an inexhaustible source of free energy that does not move and is unaffected by gravity and magnetism'.

It works on the principle of resonating frequencies and nullifies weight, a phenomenon known as antigravity. It describes it as the lowest energy level that a quantum field can have. It explains this as the vibrational motion of atoms and molecules even at absolute zero, which according to classical physics should remain at rest. This is the energy that remains after matter and radiation have been removed, or circular motion, which according to Russell is one-and-the-same, matter is the effect of circularly moving Light. Quantum physics sees the universe as a continuous flow of matter and Power of inexhaustible potential.

Religions call it God, and it is a name that remains my alternative to the name of the Zero Point in the hope that it clears the perception of God as an external being, or person, so that we may grow to see God as the core of the light network created by the Zero Points in all organic things. The purpose of the drop is an invitation to a transformation of perspective for practical use, which invites the human self, which opposes the Will of its own Source, to cooperate and create with the Source of its existence.

The upper paragraph uses scientific terminology in which there is no sense of God, the perceptible, sentient, Living, formless and inscrutable Power, whose universe is Its body. Creation is Alive, as its Source is, with all the attributes of Aliveness that come to it and which you recognize in yourself. It is not possible for the effect to have something that the Source does not have. It is difficult for me to make my way through the findings of scientists who do not seek to know their own Origin. Their terminology simply bypasses It, and attributes Its attributes to consequences. Walter Russell is another unrecognized soul after whom quantum physics takes the name of the Zero Point phenomenon, but forgets to mention him. But it also leaves out his 'creation with God'.

Russell discovered and realized the energy of hydrogen. Due to the spiritual lukewarmness of people, which did not recognize and thereby nullify the force of deception, the breakthrough of the inexhaustible, free and clean source of energy to collective consciousness and general use was not allowed.

Union with the Tranquill falcrum, with the Zero Point, which explains by name, that no other Source stands behind It, is the birth of spontaneity.
The Zero Point is the Source, without Its own source.

Your understanding is taught to think about Life in the terms of mathematics, geometry, physics, biology, chemistry, astrology..., logic, which comes from observing things and phenomena through the bodily senses or devices that are extensions of the body's senses. Living knowledge, which Lives you at this very moment and creates the conditions for this Life, cannot be perceived with a thing, because the thing is the result of the Zero Point and cannot know anything about its own Source other than that it is created. Just as a statue knows nothing of the sculptor, it can only perceive that it is sculpted because it has no merit in its own existence.

Russell, born in 1871, was a spiritual scientist, musician, sculptor, painter who hung out with Tesla and M. Twain. He says about his childhood that God did not allow him to read books, so that they would not lead his attention away from the Tranquill falcrum or Zero Points in him.

Thus, at an early age, freed from the systematic introduction into a thought that does not know the Source of its own existence, he established a strong bond with the Cosmic Mind, to which he adjusted with mental silence. A still mind creates a vibration high enough to connect to Universal Mind, to the Core Zero Point, and to tune into the timeless, spiritual Knowledge of Source, to Gyana.

General education is described by Russell as 'expert guesswork based on erroneous sensory data'. Therefore, if you think that Life has no Meaning and Purpose, that it is the product of random mutations, then if this drop quenches your thirst, you may be ripe for a thorough perspective change. Russell, in partnership with God, is truly inspiring. At the sound of its heights, it awakens you in its own fullness. May it be so for you, who want to create with frequencies, atmosphere, climate, energetic atmosphere more than with things. Russell knows the fallacy of the rational mind, which is why his works include many graphs, sketches, drawings and mathematical proofs to invite thought separated from the Source to understand itself, its Source and harmonize with It.

Simple souls do not need graphs to see behind the Beauty of Creation the High Order of unsurpassed Intelligence. We Slovenians do not have any of his works translated, so Russell's dance with God already inspires the drops of Hostarka in the hope that the thermal spring of inner Beauty will rise in you too, even though you are immersed in a world that does not appreciate It. A drop, however, may be entirely given over to his spiritual subtlety.

Mentioned spiritual beacons point out that God is Light, another name in a line of others that try to describe the Indescribable to someone who has not yet experienced God. It's like trying to describe the taste of a mango before you bite into it for the first time. If a Toltec student asked the nagual what God was, he said it was another concept in the island of tonal, or the inventory of the world, an interpretation that points to God, but is not God. With that being said, we enter into seeing God as an assembly of units of Light.

One unit of Light is like a cell that has a denser outer coverage, the further you move toward the center, the rarer it becomes until you reach the center of Pure Light or the Zero Point that centers each unit. Light cells are the primary unlimited building blocks of Creation. The same understanding of God is found in the oldest cultures of the world under the name of 'ancient wisdom' and still live by energy skills, who call God, these Light Units, in China Chi, in Japan Ki, in Buddhist Dao lands... and translates to 'circular Life Force'. In the Divine Lover drop I tell about a childhood incident that caused me to see energy whether my eyes were open or closed.

But I saw not only a circular force, but also a rolling one, rolling towards me in energy boulders. Only in the Toltec legacy, later also in Russell's, did I find an explanation for this phenomenon, which is circular, the life-giving force, exactly the opposite, and pushes into the energy cocoon from the front in order to open it up and thereby kill it, in the sense of dissolving the densest, of the outer casing of the light cell. Both forces are present at the same time and create the appropriate tension so that the shape does not fall apart. The energy pair is omnipresent, appearing and disappearing the luminous mirage of the visible world.

Zero Point is all there is. You are such a huge bundle of energy that you could light up a city of a million people.
God, the Oneness of the light units of the Zero Points, is all that is.
You breathe God, and the deeper and calmer the breath, the more imbued you are with Him and the more Godly you are.

What your eyes see are collections of Light Cells coming together based on the energy patterns of the Life Program. Energy structure or life program, keeps cells in a certain shape, e.g. the man who is held together by the web of Zero Points at this very moment and is brought to life as long as the circular and rolling forces are in balance, otherwise he loses his sheath and falls apart.

In the vacuum of space, the density of Light is small, so Light cells are extremely large, while in the region of gravity, Light cells thicken and shrink. They all have the same structure, the pure light of the still center and the manifested form of movement at the edge. What is it that guides the light frequency into a certain moving form, what causes the vibration? All this is caused by the Thinker, the Universal Mind, the Core Zero Point..., God. Thought is the cause of all things. The Thinker causes creation and creation reflects the Thinker. The Zero Point is infinite, everything exists within It, so there is nothing that can be added to the Zero Point from outside. You are abundance, you are the Source of everything.

All are given the same unlimited aid of Natural Intelligence which animates and guides all things. All you need is to connect to It. The force of deception thrives as long as it keeps your attention turned away from the Zero Point, toward seeing and dealing with Its consequences. Thus, you allow yourself to be deceived into the apparent imperfection of the visible world, into ignorance, and as a result into confusion, conflict, weakness and illness.

You are invited to reach your full potential by staying focused in its natural position, in the Causality of everything. Resting in the Zero Point, you are the Power of the Power, embedded in the excess of yourselves, reawakened to the greatness of the Oneness of Love.

The apparent connection with the masses does not deceive you into a false hope for things and people, for anything that you do not already have and are not. Peace, this great word, gains practical value when immersed in It you see that you are the translator of the Universal Consciousness and can create whatever you can imagine in cooperation with It. Without It you are a tool in the hands of the power of deception, with It you are an Invincible creative Power that cannot be indifferent to Itself and imagine something that would harm It. A thought that does not have Life attributes cannot come out of It.

The more you lose your attention in things outside, the more you value yourself with things, the more you think that things preserve or take away your Life..., the more you lose clarity of mental purity, the more distant you are from the Causality of everything, the more you depend on 'solutions' ' outside.... and further and further from the only true Solution.

That we are the Light from Light, the ancient masters of Tibet, India, China... have known for a long time. They lived and created from their inner glow. Don't let yourself be fooled into thinking that this means that everything happens by itself and that you meditate all day and by that you mean behavioral passivity and not moving your body. Yes, everything happens by itself and you meditate all day long, but the independence is that the behavior reflects the connection with the Source and you don't work like me, disconnected with Source and meditating happens to you when the awareness rests in the Zero Point, no matter what the body does.

When you shake off the feeling of 'personal doing', when you nullify yourself in the Happening, you are no more observing the happenings as I, but you are the Happening. That is why it is so beautiful to see a child engrossed in the observation of nature, because he is not aware of himself as separate from doing. The child is one with doing. Likewise, great musicians and creators are not people who do something, they are the Doing. A pianist is playing, a singer is singing, a sculptor is sculpting, a poet is poeting. This is Zero Point Creativity, this is dancing with God. You are not in it, you are It.

This protects you from entangling the energy threads in the Perfection of what is happening and from creating discrepancies with the Intention of Life. Don't think that nothing is nothing and at the same time understand that without your efforts, nothing moves. Just by working from what you think and know, you oppose what would bring the best possible solution for the situation you are in. When you stop trying to save yourself the way you think, that's when you open yourself up to a solution that you can't think of. You cannot make it up, invent it, find it online, in the minds of others, arrive at it by thinking.

It can only happen as a Solution of Natural Intelligence, when you do not interfere with Its Will with your own, and from inner silence you are vigilant so as not to overlook It when it appears. The balancer who preserves Life for eternity is also within you and strives without interruption to restore balance.

This seems to require unimaginable trust in the lottery of Life. It doesn't require trust in the lottery, but you certainly need patience, because Life, the Core Zero Point, God, works in His own rhythm, which does not suit yours. After two decades of observing His Work, what remains without doubt is a Smooth Understanding of Natural Law. Thought cannot outgrow its straits by itself, it must take risks, open itself to the unknown, and thus invite a fresh flow through it, to propel it from stagnation to growth and thus bring to Life.
