

Law of Life 6

(Inspired by: The Secret of Light, Walter Russell)

Welcome to the continuation of the collection for which I notice that many things have to mature in order for it to happen. I gladly enter into its progression, which draws me with it into its vastness, to which you are also invited, whose heart beats in the realm of the inner heavens and you fly high. This drop is inspired by Walter Russell's timeless masterpiece The Secret of Light. I don't know how it will come out, I just carefully follow its maneuvers so as not to stray from the path it illuminates. I am sure that all of you who are found by this and possibly another drop, will accept its invitating.

The Secret of Light

Introduction from The Divine Iliad, Walter Russell

"I am Light; only I AM.

What I Am, you are. You are the Light. You are One with Me.

One can know Me by wanting to know Me.

To know Me is to be Me.

Only through My Light can man know Me.

Man is Light when he knows that he is Light.

All people will come to Me in their own time,
but theirs is the agony of waiting."

Jesus says, "God is Light," and no one understood that at the time. The day has come when people, one by one, understand what he meant by that. Within the mystery of Light, there is still a great deal of knowledge, still undiscovered by man. Light is all there is. Light is the only thing we are dealing with... except we don't know it yet and we don't know what Light is. This is an attempt to unfold the Light.

Mankind has progressed in relation to things to a breaking point, it is not going any further in this direction. We have knowledge of how to deal with matter, but we do not know what it is or why. We also do not know what energy, electricity, magnetism, gravity and radiation are, although we know how to use them to control things.

Nor do we yet live the fact that this is a two-way, continuous universe of equilibrium in all the effects of motion, and not a one-way, discontinuous universe, and that in the understanding of Light, the void or mirror or lens principle of space (as the physicists call it) is indispensable, which is the cause of the illusions in moving things. We still do not perceive the entire material-electric universe for the illusion that it is; there is no truth to it.

Quantum physics began to discover the principle of growth and simultaneous unfolding of one-and-same duplication. They learned, for example, that the shape of crystals is determined by the wave field of light, that vibration determines the structure of matter and many other things that bring us closer and closer to the one and only substance of the universe, Light. We are entering an era of transillumination of thought, in which we will spontaneously know who we are, and how we progress on the path of evolution of consciousness, the core of which is Light, the seed of organic Life.

Repeating Life ad infinitum is not just a metaphysical abstraction of philosophers and guesses of science, but rather one's own knowing, which will take man's consciousness on an eternal journey of consciousness, uninterrupted by oblivion, which we experience now and for which we stomp, we stagger and walk on knees when we could simply fly.

Inside the Light is the answer to all the so far unanswered questions and many others that we haven't even asked ourselves yet. The revelation of the nature of Light will be the heritage of man in the coming age of higher understanding. Entering the Light Essence of the Universe will prove God by standards acceptable to scientific and religious language. It will create the missing spiritual origin of the present material science, whereby both spirituality and science will experience a quantum leap and finally rise from the dead.

The two greatest elements of civilization will thus find unity, and as a result, man's attitude towards everything, due to the understanding of the Law of Life, will become nurturing to Life. The Law of Life is in the background of all processes, which are filled by Light itself by intertwining geometric patterns and creating an endlessly ordered intertwining of light threads called universes.

There is no area of Life that will not be significantly affected by the knowledge of the nature of Light, as the knowledge of the Light nature of the Universe will eliminate all the shadowy tendencies that drive today's society. Therefore, I give it to you with all the clarity that is given to me, so that together we can look behind the scenes of the Light Illusion that is our world.

The eternal questions "Who am I?" "What am I?" "Why am I?" "What is my relationship to the universe, to man and to God?" "Where does my strength come from?" "How do I find balance in relationships?"

How can I realize this balance in our exchange that will enrich you and me? ' There are countless religious teachings and many of them command goodness, but goodness is still veiled before my eyes like a thick mist, which hides Your Light, which I seek in vain. I'm stumbling in the dark. I'm falling off balance. Oh, you Invisible One, tear the veil from my eyes, which hides the way to Your Light, so that I can find the way to You."

It is the cry of the ages. These are the unanswered questions that arise from the hearts of this awakening generation. Civilization progresses in cycles of new understanding that transforms humanity into higher beings. A new cycle is now in the making. The omnipresence of God is centered in the consciousness of every human being... and there are more and more of them who know about the Oneness of their soul with the Universal Soul.

It takes a really long time for man to start seeing this. Each cycle (Jttana) brings us closer to realizing our Oneness with the Light of our Source. We live in a complex world of effects for which we do not know the cause. Due to the seemingly endless variety and complexity of the material world, we fail to see the simple underlying principle of Balance in all things. So we entangle Truth until its many angles, sides and aspects lose balance with each other and we with them. The truth is simple. Balance is effortless.

A rhythmic balanced exchange between all pairs of opposite expressions, found in natural phenomena and in human relationships, is the perfect art of the universe of Light.

This is the Law of Life. In this one fundamental Law lies the balanced continuity of all creative expression, in the universe of electric waves, born of the two mutual forces of Light & Love, in apparent motion, which write down the One whole idea of God's creation, into innumerable seemingly separate parts.

The Inner Voice Many unanswered questions have a simple answer..., a certainty of inner knowing that continually informs your awakening consciousness. Every longing written in the heart is carried to the Source and its answer comes, but there are few who ask comprehensively and even fewer who catch the answer.

Many cycles of preparation are required for one to attune to an undistorted 'catch' of responses because one's consciousness is isolated from the Source, by the sensations of an electrically conditioned body which man mistakenly thinks is his Mind or personal Self.

What he calls his objective mind is the seat of his body's electrical sensations. What he calls thinking is the electrical recording of things that he perceives and records in the brain cells, thereby memorizing it for repeated use. Memories are no more related to the knowledge of the Source than a musical recording is related to a recording source.

What he thinks is his living body is an electrically motivated organism, which simulates Life through motion extended to it from the centered Soul, Zero point, which alone Lives and wants the body to move.

What he calls the subjective mind is the Consciousness, his spiritual repository of all knowledge, power and presence.

The electrically oscillating nerve wires that drive his body mechanism function entirely through automatic reflexes and instinctive control or the Life Program. Each cell and organ has an electrical awareness of its purpose, and each fulfills that purpose without mental activity, in the service of the Intelligence that occupies that body. Heart rate is, e.g. fully automatic, white blood cells rush to repair the body's damage as automatically as a bell rings when you press a button.

In this body and its electrical recording brain, man thinks, that he thinks, he lives, loves and dies. He thinks that he is conscious when he is awake, and unconscious when he sleeps..., he does not notice that in all Nature there is no state of unconsciousness, when the senses and feelings are excluded in sleep. One does not say that one's tooth is unconscious when it is put to sleep by short-circuiting the nerve which gives the tooth perceived electrical consciousness. He knows that his tooth cannot be conscious, but he does not know that the body cannot be conscious.

Consciousness never sleeps, never changes, Consciousness in man is his Eternity. This is the Light he unknowingly seeks. He assumes that they cerebral sensations is his thinking. Man is still new, barely emerging from the darkness of his confusion.

He has long relied on the evidence of his senses to acquire knowledge.

He has been aware of spirit and soul for only a few thousand years.

In this beginning of deepened awareness he is confused, he does not know what is from the mind, what is from the senses and what is from the Consciousness.

We are on the threshold of discovering that bodies are self-created organisms, manifested from the centered soul, the eternal Self, and this Self realizes God as One with itself. We are maturing to realize that bodies neither live nor die, but eternally repeat themselves, as ideas repeat themselves in the Mind of God. A bike, e.g. is a mechanism consisting of a hub, spokes and a rim.

Only a small part of the wheel touches the ground, feels it, then leaves it to disappear from the range of sensations connecting the rim and the ground. Then it appears again. When this happens to a person, we say: "He was born, lived and died."

We say this because only a small part of the cycle of any idea reaches the senses. Much of the cycle is beyond the range of sensory perception, just as much of the wheel is beyond the perception of the ground. We are entering an age that we call Golden precisely because of the renewed wholeness of Understanding, that the invisible part of the cycles of all ideas is continuous, like a continuous wheel.

The flame 'goes out' to our senses, but it still IS. Similarly, a tree, a forest, a mountain, a planet, and a nebula of the distant sky appear, disappear, and surely reappear. Similarly, man appears to disappear and reappear again and again in innumerable cycles to express the eternal Life of the spirit, in eternal repetitions of that part of the human cycle which the human body can perceive. A man never dies. He is continuous as eternity is continuous. Jesus rightly said that man shall not see death, for death is not to be seen or known.

Likewise, the human body does not Live, and since it never Lived, it cannot die. Only the soul Lives and with this Life it manifests the body. The life of the human soul with the will prepares the body for action. Actions thus performed by the body under the command of the centered soul, the Zero point, have no motivating power or Intelligence in themselves; are organisms motivated by Natural Intelligence, with a soul or Zero point pervaded within them. Some of you are already starting to learn these things, but as a collective we inevitably follow.

Be forever changed We are forever searching for the Light to guide us on this long winding path that leads from the confusion of the bodily senses to the mountain peak of the awakened soul. Once we find the Light, we have it forever and it transforms us permanently. Once we have It, we gradually find our Self, which IS Light. Some who seek the clarity of the Light are discouraged because they expect to find it all at once in some blinding flash of all power. The path to the Light must be nurturing and its speed dictated by the will of the spirit. Its wholeness happens quietly and imperceptibly, like the blooming of a flower, when one approaches the top of a mountain.

As we are, we cannot bear much Light at once, while our body is still new and too close to the confusion of bodily senses. All who are now safely out of this obscurity have found enough Light to light their way out of its darkness.

He who is far from the senses and touching the world of consequences with them, will find the Light and be forever changed, because once he experiences the Light, he cannot take his eyes off the High Bliss even for a moment, the slightest glimpse of the darkness brings him back to his fears, which rule it and tempt him to immerse himself in them again.

The path is not easy, but it is glorious. Everyone must climb. The ascent of man from darkness to Light is an eternally recurring play on the planets and the planets of the Suns. When mankind finds the Light, the game will be over and a new octave, a new universe will be born. Similarly, this planet will be finished as an abode for man.

It will then roll into its ever-increasing orbit, and at the same time a new area will be formed, which will be the stage for the next iteration of man's ascent. Players of the play must therefore be content with the rules of the game, which are revealed to each of us in the Light. We must also always be glad of our constant transformation, as each of us learns our work, line by line, to better fulfill it.

All passages of the play are experiences that become the action of the play. All experiences are part of his development. Each experience is part of his journey from darkness to Light. All experiences are steps on the way to his mountain peak of Glory. So all experiences are good experiences. There is nothing but Good. It is only the Oneness of Life.
